Letter from the Principal

Dear parents and carers,

Thank you as always for your continued support helping your child with their home learning , it really is much appreciated and we understand how challenging it can be. I just wanted to say that you are all doing an amazing job in such challenging circumstances and that I am very grateful to you all.

Please find attached a document that you might find useful, it is an article to help parents and carers support their children when studying at home. It gives ideas about schedules, organisation and encouraging breaks in learning to support well being.

Wishing you all a safe and peaceful weekend.

With best wishes

Rachel

Year 4 Poetry

Congratulations to the following children for submitting these wonderful poems as part of their home learning.

Olivia Year 4

The river is home

The river is home,
To creatures big and small.
Mammals and amphibians,
It houses them all!

The river is home,
To fishes galore.
Pike, carp and salmon,
Plus many many more.

The river is home,
To frogs, toad and newts.
Sunbathing on their lily pads,
Looking very cute.

The river is home,
To the birds that are resting.
Hidden in the swaying reeds,
Bathing, feeding and resting.

The river is home,
To creatures big and small.
Mammals and amphibians,
It houses them all!

THE RIVER

The river smells strong,
As it dances along,
Twirling and swirling,
To its own rapid song.

The river sounds loud,
As it reaches the sides,
Bashing and clashing,
As the water collides.

The river feels wet,
To childrens feet,
And Fisherman landing their catch,
From their riverside seat.

The river looks shiny,
As the sun shines down,
The glistening blue water,
With the bank muddy brown.

David Year 4

The river's source bubbles and blows,
And forces water forward into the rushing pandemonium.
There it glides along like a swan,
And goes through the trees gracefully,

Hurrying and gurgling it flows through the woods until it reaches a path,
Where giggling children interrupt its course of mystery and pleasure,
The children splash and stomp and they end up soaking wet,
Before trudging home for a hot chocolate and a towel,

The river then meanders onwards through Eastbury,
It travels through the flood plain quickly.
Horses and Cows visit the clear and refreshing water,
And the farmer is glad and happy.

In Great Shefford the river gets deeper and higher,
So, you can expect many ducks to appear,
Beside the river there is a pub where you can watch,
Feasting while you watch them splashing and quacking,
